

The ATTENDANCE WHEEL

Just a quick bit of news before the next Newsletter in February...

As you may know from our Star of the Week assemblies, we always make sure that the winning classes are celebrated during the weekly attendance award. But... We think that EVERY child who attends for 5 straight days in a row should be given a chance to be in for a weekly prize. And so...

The BIG attendance wheel will make it's first appearance tomorrow in assembly! A £5 Amazon voucher will be awarded to someone from the Infants and someone from the Juniors!

Of course, we know that sometimes children are absent for a number of reasons and this can't be helped. In this case though, I'm afraid you have to...

BE IN IT TO WIN IT!

Good Luck to all children who qualify!

Best Picture Taken in 2025?

Just before the wind kicked in last week, some of our Junior girls were out in the sun and the rain during their football training with Mr Gallagher when a double rainbow appeared and here's the result of Mr Brand's photography!
